

The path clearly set out and well defined;
The borders and walkways carefully aligned;
So in life the way may seem fixed, unchanged;
Choices bounded on all sides, pre-arranged;
Yet labyrinthal options at each step revealed;
With pace and pause chosen the spirit is healed.

Seek out and share sweetness to be found;
Along life's paths that lead round and round;
Fresh pleasures await in trails seen anew;
Once hidden from sight are now in plain view;
In the cycle of being, opportunities abound;
To envision a world where love and joy resound.
